

helps support and inspire children with cancer and other life-threatening illnesses.

Lisa is not afraid to take bold and creative measures to help our children. She initiated and co-wrote a Los Angeles city resolution to institute a grading system for schools, similar to the way the city grades restaurants. In Beverly Hills, she has petitioned the school board for safer and more sanitary campuses, and even hired a photographer to help her document the campus conditions she was seeking to correct.

I also admire Lisa's support for Israel and the Jewish people: she has been a Board Member of the Israel Grants Fund, a Trustee of the Jewish Community Foundation, and a Senate Club member of the American Israel Public Affairs Committee.

Finally, Lisa is a distinguished L.A. businesswoman, and a superb example of the talent that women bring to leadership positions in our local businesses. She is a co-owner of the commercial property management company Amalgamated Real Estate Services, where she manages twenty Downtown and Westside commercial buildings.

I ask my colleagues to join me in congratulating Lisa Korbato on her well-deserved honor from the Boy Scouts of America, and in urging her to keep up her great work to improve Los Angeles.

TRIBUTE TO EAGLE SCOUT NOAH DE KRUIF

HON. DAVID YOUNG

OF IOWA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, October 21, 2015

Mr. YOUNG of Iowa. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and congratulate Noah De Kruij of Boy Scout Troop 98 in Urbandale, Iowa, for achieving the rank of Eagle Scout. Noah is the son of Jim and Elizabeth De Kruij of Johnston, Iowa.

The Eagle Scout rank is the highest advancement rank in scouting. Only about four percent of Boy Scouts earn the prestigious Eagle Scout Award. The award is a performance-based achievement with high standards that have been well-maintained for more than a century.

To earn the Eagle Scout rank, a Boy Scout must pass specific tests organized by requirements and merit badges, and complete an Eagle Project to benefit the community. Noah has earned 21 merit badges as a Boy Scout. For his Eagle Scout Service Project he and his twin brother Nicholas, who is also an Eagle Scout, revitalized a local school, the Joshua Christian Academy. The project included a complete renovation of the landscaping, painting fresh lines in the parking lots, adding concrete barriers in areas of need, and making a sign to help identify the school. The staff at Joshua Christian Academy really appreciated the effort to make the school safer and more visually appealing.

Mr. Speaker, the example set by this young man demonstrates the rewards of hard work, dedication and perseverance. I am honored to represent Noah and his family in the United States Congress. I know that all of my colleagues in the United States House of Representatives will join me in congratulating him on reaching the rank of Eagle Scout and in wishing him nothing but continued success in his future education and career.

HONORING COMMAND SERGEANT
MAJOR ROOSEVELT HUGGINS,
U.S. ARMY, RETIRED

HON. JOHN R. CARTER

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, October 21, 2015

Mr. CARTER of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Command Sergeant Major Roosevelt Huggins, U.S. Army, Retired. It brings me great pride to highlight the life of this great American.

CSM Huggins' service to his beloved nation began July 19, 1961, where he entered the Army at Ft. Hood, Texas. Upon his promotion to Sergeant in Okinawa, Japan, CSM Huggins was shipped out to Vietnam in 1965, where he would serve two tours. On November 6, 1966 while participating in Operation "Eagle Shot Cow" his battery was overrun by a Vietnamese Battalion. For his valiant efforts in Vietnam, CSM Huggins was awarded the Bronze Star and Army Commendation Award with Valor.

After Vietnam CSM Huggins was called to lead and teach in a variety of roles. From 1975–1981 CSM Huggins was assigned to Ft. Carlson, Colorado where he attended a boxing camp. There, he learned the skills that would bring Army Boxing back to Ft. Hood Texas.

CSM Huggins retired August 1, 1991 after more than 30 years of service in the U.S. Army that spanned five countries, war-time conflicts, and multiple states that called him to learn, lead, and teach his fellow soldiers the discipline and skills necessary to defend a nation. CSM Huggins continued his proud tradition of service to his fellow man after his retirement. In 1997 CSM Huggins organized the first Back to School—Stay in School program designed to promote both youth and adult education. CSM Huggins has served as a role model for youth and adults alike.

I am proud to have such a man residing right here in Texas so dedicated to the uplifting and betterment of the community in which he lives, works, and serves. May we all remember and honor this fine example of humility and service. I join CSM Huggins' wife Charmaine, their two sons, three granddaughters, family, and friends in wishing him nothing but the best in the years ahead.

Wednesday, October 21, 2015

Mr. CARTWRIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the Greater Wilkes-Barre Association of Realtors as they celebrate 100 years of service to the community. For the past century, the Association's members have helped families in their pursuit of the American dream of home ownership.

The Greater Wilkes-Barre Association of Realtors traces its origins with the establishment of Wilkes-Barre Real Estate Exchange in 1915. Today, with over 400 members, the organization is an affiliate of the National Association of Realtors and operates under the capable leadership of Charles Adonizio III. On January 1, 2016 the Greater Wilkes-Barre Association of Realtors plans to merge with its counterpart, the Greater Hazelton Association of Realtors. The two groups will form the Luzerne County Association of Realtors. With this consolidation, both organizations hope to provide more professional services to their members and to better serve all of Luzerne County.

It is an honor to recognize the Greater Wilkes-Barre Association of Realtors, and I applaud the organization and its members for a century of top-notch professional service to the community.
